

A true reflection of you

Personal, layered and full of feeling, Lola Swift Interior Design helps clients shape homes that reflect their lives, not just the latest trends

No two homes ever look or feel the same, and that's exactly how it should be. Every project is a collaboration to create spaces that feel lived in, loved, and unmistakably yours.

My design philosophy is rooted in individuality. I believe a home should reflect the people who live there, not trends, rules, or someone else's Pinterest board. Whether it's a textured wallpaper, a velvet cushion in just the right rose pink, or an heirloom piece reimaged for modern life, it's these details that bring a home to life.

Colour is the emotional anchor of my work, guided by an intuitive sense of pairing and balance. I use it to shift mood and energy, sometimes with expressive palettes, sometimes with quiet, nuanced tones. Colour doesn't need to be intimidating. It's about building a palette that supports your most treasured pieces and brings your style to life. Texture, pattern and tone shape the personality of a room. Texture brings comfort and tactility. Pattern adds rhythm and movement. Tone ties everything together, creating a space that feels layered and lived in, while honouring both your style and the character of your home.

As an interior designer and colour consultant, I know how much our surroundings affect how we feel. While we often gravitate toward the familiar, great design opens up new possibilities, enhancing not just how a home looks, but how it lives. My role is to guide you through those choices with clarity and insight, helping you shape a home that feels personal, considered and uplifting, a space that tells your story.
